Dear Ira:

Thank you for your letter of 10 June in which you request comments on the recent letter you received from Air Marshal Golovanov.

Our people continue to be of the opinion that we must be most careful not to encourage associations with the Soviet War Veterans Committee in any way which implies support to their claim of respectability or legitimacy. Thus, in answer to Golovanov's specific question, you might wish to stress the desirability of personal contact in keeping with the spirit of people-to-people exchanges and that the value of such individual contacts should not be diminished by the more institutional, and hence less personal, kinds of relationships on an organizational level.

You might also suggest to Golovanov that granting individuals free access to travel at will within the Soviet Union and develop personal friendships with people from another country is a most direct and fruitful way to accomplish the objectives to which Golovanov refers in his letter.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely,

10/12/59

Dear Free:

Since you were kind enough to confer with me on the letter Air Marshal Golovanov, Retired, wrote to me in connection with the Arms of Friendship program, I am sending you a copy of my most recent letter from the Air Marshal, for any evaluation or comments you care to furnish me.

I was glad to see you and Jacklyn at the Air Force Academy graduation. It seemed to me the ceremony went off very well.

Looking forward to seeing you soon, and in the meantime with every good wish.

Sincerely,

COPY OF LETTER FROM SOVIET VETERANS COMMITTEE, DATED 24 April 1959

Lt. Gen. Ira C. Baker
Arms of Friendship, Inc.
4150 Henry Ave.
Philadelphia 14, Penna.

Dear General Baker,

I acknowledge the receipt of your letter of March 5 and express my sincere satisfaction that the desire to re-establish comradeship and a good strong friendship between our two countries, as they existed in the years of the past war, is our common desire.

I also wish to thank you for the brochure outlining the purposes of the Arms of Friendship, which will certainly help me and my friends to get better acquainted with your organization.

I was deeply moved indeed by the final words of your letter saying that you share our hope that the day will come when war veterans of our two countries can again meet with understanding and good will. In this respect I would very much like to know your opinion of how, in what way the desired day can be brought nearer and what our two organizations could do towards that end.

In conclusion I wish to assure you that I will do my best to convey your good wishes to all my former colleagues whom you met in Moscow fifteen years ago.

Yours sincerely,

(Sgnd) Golovanov

Chief Air Marshall (Ret.)

Dear Mr. von Eckardt:

I sincerely appreciate your kind expression of sympathy to me on the loss of my brother. Your generous words of tribute to him are a comfort and an encouragement that the ideals toward which he strove continue to find defenders in both our countries.

I would welcome an opportunity to talk with you again, and in the meantime may I send my best wishes to you and for your work.

Sincerely,
